Helping Startups and Businesses Make Smarter Decisions Using
Data | Data Scientist | Data Analysis & Machine Learning | Python &
SQL

Summary

Most businesses collect data, but struggle to turn it into clear decisions.
That's where I help.

I'm a Data Scientist who works with founders and small teams to analyze data, uncover insights, and turn numbers into actions that actually matter.

I work mainly with:
• Business & product data
• Python, SQL & data visualization
• Exploratory analysis & decision support

My focus is simple:
clarity over complexity, insights over dashboards.

If you have data but don't know what to do with it,
let's talk.

Experience

Freelance
Data Scientist
August 2025 - Present (7 months)

I experimented with real datasets and basic machine-learning tasks.
Most of the work involved understanding the data, preparing it, and trying different ideas to see what worked.
I'm still improving, but each project gives me more confidence.

Freelance

Junior Data Analyst
August 2025 - December 2025 (5 months)

I worked on small data projects using Python and SQL.

My main focus was cleaning data, exploring trends, and creating simple visuals so others could understand the results.

This taught me how to break down problems and explain insights clearly.
